

Digital Keystone earns “Inc. 5000” qualification

Digital Keystone has been ranked by Inc. magazine among the 5000 fastest growing private companies in the United States. Equally impressive, Digital Keystone has been named one of the top 50 companies in Silicon Valley. These accomplishments demonstrate Digital Keystone's continued leadership in delivering solutions that enable protected TV content on multiple digital platforms.

Paolo Siccardo, President and CEO, said, “We are proud to have been recognized by Inc. magazine for our continued accomplishment in the digital entertainment industry, and of our solid year-over-year growth. Digital Keystone’s technology bridges the gap between digital TV systems and a wide variety of media platforms. We continue to see strong demand and high growth opportunities for our technologies, as is reflected in the nomination to the prestigious Inc. 5000 list.”
